

Reignite!

Transitioning Women into Tech

Welcome to MCWT Reignite! This program is specifically designed for women who are looking to return to the workforce or transition into a career in technology.

At MCWT, we understand women re-entering the workforce or transitioning into the tech industry can be very challenging. This program provides a supportive community that helps women build confidence, network, and acquire new skills to help them succeed in the tech industry.

Whether you paused after the pandemic, took a break from your career to focus on family, or are looking to make a transition into tech; Reignite! is here to help you focus on the next chapter of your life.
